

What is advance information?

Advance information is new for 2022. It's part of the package of support available for your summer exams this year, in recognition of the disruption to your education caused by the pandemic.

The aim of advance information is to help guide and prioritise your revision. It will give you information on the focus of the content of exams in summer 2022 for most subjects. You can access the advance information when it is published by exam boards on their websites on 7 February 2022.

Will advance information be available for all my subjects?

How do I use it?

Advance information can help guide and prioritise your revision. For example, advance information for some subjects may let you know that one part of the assessment (such as 'synoptic questions'). Using full past papers can also help you to familiarise yourself with the style of exam questions as part of your exam preparation.

information will be listed in the order they appear in the exam papers.
